Greetings from P4HC+ secretariat!

We hope you have enjoyed February newsletter.

This newsletter covers a number of reports done by our P4HC+ partners, including GIZ, WHO and SDC. As requested during the last meeting, a shared folder on costing studies is available in Box (WB shared box). Please find all the documents from last meeting via the hyperlinks on the right side of page. For colleagues who cannot access Box or would like to have documents sent via emails, please feel free to contact us. By May the new P4H web portal (intranet) will become available following its introduction to the World Health Assembly so colleagues who cannot access Box may access P4HC+ documents on that site.

Summary:

“This study aims to explore options for achieving Universal Health Coverage (UHC) in the Cambodia’s financial constraint context through a three-track approach to assess how the coverage of and access to quality health services in Cambodia can be expanded in top-down and bottom-up interventions to support the intermediate objectives and ultimate goals of UHC”.

Strengthening Domestic Financing Institutions for Universal Health Coverage in Cambodia:

Situation analysis of health financing policy and implementation (draft report)

Author: World Health Organization, in cooperation with Ministry of Health Cambodia

January 2017

Summary:

“This report tries to answer two main questions: where are we now? and how can we do better? With seven sections, the report analyzes health financing institutions in Cambodia as it makes progress toward UHC and transitions toward domestic financing. Given the Government's own plans and priorities, and a whole-of-system approach for analysing the governance, financing, and service delivery architecture of the health system (and the intersections therein), it examines the health system’s funding flows and provides guidance on how to sustain and improve health system performance to advance UHC”.
