ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The Program Organizers

The program is jointly designed and implemented by GIZ (Gesellschaft für internationale Zusammenarbeit) and the World Bank. Both organizations have extensive experience in health policy and in leadership development. At GIZ, the P4H Sector Project and the Leadership Group at the Academy for International Cooperation (AIZ) are involved; at the World Bank, it the World Bank Institute's Leadership and Health Practices, and the Africa Region.

AIZ and WBI have delivered successful leadership trainings in sectors as different as Water, Biodiversity and Energy, and provide well-known programs on health and social protection.

It is implemented as part of GIZ and WB's collaboration in the P4H partnership. P4H is a global network for Universal Health Coverage (UHC) and Social Health Protection (SHP). It was launched as a political initiative for SHP at the G8 summit 2007.

Martin Kalungu-Banda (Leadership Facilitator)

Martin Kalungu-Banda is a consultant in leadership development; a designer and facilitator of innovation and organizational change; a trainer and coach.

Since September 2010, Martin has been serving as adviser to the Africa Governance Initiative of the Tony Blair Office, playing the role of Thinking Partner with Chiefs of Staff to African Heads of State. Martin has headed leadership-training and mentoring programs for cabinets and executives of South Africa, Namibia, Rwanda, Liberia, Libya, Ghana and Zambia.

Between March 2005 and May 2008, Martin served as Special Consultant and Chief of Staff to the President of Zambia. Together with the Presencing Institute, he prototyped new ways of responding to the HIV & AIDS pandemic in Zambia, Mozambique and Angola.

Martin has facilitated a variety of initiatives, on diverse issues from reducing the cost of heart surgery to raising a new crop of leaders in the banking industry, and in countries as varied as the UK, Abu Dhabi, and Argentina. He is the author of the bestseller "Leading Like Madiba: Leadership Lessons from Nelson Mandela" (2006) and "It's How We End That Matters: Leadership Lessons from an African President" (2009). His third book, "On the Wings of Others: How to Access Life's Greatest Opportunities," will be published soon.

What is a collective action initiative?

“collective action initiative” = UHC change project = “learning while doing”

“collective action initiative” because participants are expected to choose a challenge that is not only of a technical nature, but one that requires joint action of stakeholders; examples:

- Multisectoral team from Ministries Health, Finance, Labor, other government bodies → Health Financing Strategy their initiative → use program as an “incubator
- Team of hospital administrators / health insurance executives → common claims disputes → develop an arbitration process or new claims procedures
- Team of (local) government officials / civil society representatives → health services fail to meet community expectations → jointly develop and implement a social audit/citizen feedback and accountability initiative for primary health care facilities

Participants will receive leadership coaching, and mentoring by UHC experts
